

PSALM 21

To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David

Anonymous, 1824
arranged by John B. Wilkes, 1861

1 The king shall joy in thy strength, O LORD;
3 For thou preventest him with the blessings of goodness:
5 His glory is great in thy salvation:

2 and in thy salvation how greatly shall he rejoice!
3 thou settest a crown of pure gold on his head.
5 honour and majesty hast thou laid upon him.

2 Thou hast given him his heart's desire,
4 He asked of thee, and thou gavest it him,
6 For thou hast made him most blessed for ever:

7 For the king trusteth in the LORD,

2 and hast not withholden the request of his lips. Se-lah.
4 even length of days for ever and ever.
6 thou hast made him exceeding glad with thy countenance.

7 and through the High he shall not be moved.

PSALM 21 (p 2)

Samuel Howard
1762

8 Thine hand shall 10 Their 12 Therefore shalt thou

find out all thine enemies;
fruit shalt thou destroy from the earth,
make them turn their back,

8 thy right hand shall 10 and their 12 when thou shalt make ready thine arrows a find out those that hate thee.

seed from among the children of men.
gainst the face of them.

9 Thou shalt make them as a 11 For 13 Be thou ex-

fiery oven in the time of thine anger;
they intended evil against thee:
alted, LORD, in thine own strength:

9 the LORD shall swallow them up in his 11 they imagined a mischievous device, 13 so will we

wrath, and the fire shall devour them.
a-bles to perform.
sing and praise thy power.