

Psalm 32

A Psalm of David, Maschil.

(Modified) - James Turle
(1802-1882)

1 Blessed is he whose transgression _____ is _____ for given,
 3 When _____ I kept silence,
 5 I acknowledged my _____ sin un- to thee,

1 whose _____ sin _____ is _____ covered,
 3 my bones waxed old through my _____ roar- ing all the day long,
 5 and mine i- _____ niquity have I not hid.

2 Blessed is the man unto whom the LORD im- puteth not i- niquity,
 4 For day and night thy hand was _____ heavy u- pon me;
 5 I said, I will confess my transgressions- unto the LORD;

2 and in whose _____ spirit there is no guile. Se- lah.
 4 my moisture is _____ turned in- to the drought of my summer. Se- lah.
 5 and thou forgavest _____ the i- niqui- ty of my sin. Se- lah.

Psalm 32 (Continued)

6 For this shall everyone that is godly ——— pray un- to the 7 Thou art my ——— hi- ding place;
 8 I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way that — thou shalt go:

10 Many sorrows shall ——— be to the wicked:

6 in a ——— time when thou mayest be found:
 7 thou shalt pre- ——— serve — me from trouble:
 8 I will ——— guide thee with mine eye,

10 but he that trusteth in the LORD, com- pass him a- bout.
 mercy shall —

6 surely in the ——— floods of great waters
 7 thou shalt ——— compass me a- bout
 8 Be ye not as the horse, or as the mule, un- der- standing:
 which have no —

11 Be glad in the LORD, and re- ——— jice, ye righteous:

6 they shall ——— not come nigh un- to him.
 7 with ——— songs of de- liverance. Se- lah.
 8 whose mouth must be, they come near un- to thee.
 held in with bit and bridle, lest —